HOOVER AND CABINET MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION

Cabinet Called By Hoover For Budget Paring

Extraordinary Session Of Cabinet Called By President Today

URGES NECESSITY OF LOWERING COSTS

First Session Of Its Kind Held During Present Administration

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—An extraordinary session of the cabinet was summoned today by President Hoover to discuss the budget which the administration will submit to the oncoming congress.

The members were notified by telephone of the president's desire to have them at the White House and they began arriving about 10 o'clock.

Today's session followed a prolonged meeting yesterday, at which both the war debts question and the budget were considered.

The regular cabinet days are Tuesdays and Fridays. There has not been an extraordinary meeting of the cabinet during the present administration.

It is understood the president laid before his aides today the urgent necessity of paring their estimates to the bone. With the treasury deficit past the $700,000,000 mark, and the new tax bill failing to produce anywhere near the revenues anticipated, budget sails will have to be trimmed to meet the situation.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa Newc knows of two people who got a thorough soaking last evening. He saw two men driving up Croton avenue in the pouring rain with no top over their car.

Snow at last! What about a sleigh ride? Try and get it. The day for "jingle bells" and sleigh rides with an oyster stew afterward are gone. The modern trend of sleigh is "toboggan".

The best hunting story of the season was a happening of Friday. A well known local professional man went a hunting rabbit in the preserves of Lawrence county, but not a bunny did he get. But he did get something else of more value. While hunting in the fence corners, what did he find but four fine puppies. He has the puppies, which are well bred, and will probably realize nicely from this hunting trip as there are several bids already for the puppies. He believes that he will give up hunting bunnies for the balance of the season and go in for something a "doggone sight better".

Out in the Plaingrove district, the folks take their entertainment seriously and are willing to travel a long ways for pleasure. Last evening, Pa Newc was at Volant for a church dinner, after which he traveled on over to Plaingrove for a Red Cross meeting at Plaingrove high school. The Plaingrove high school students were presenting a little play, which turned out to be quite an interesting presentation. Pa Newc noticed that a large number of people attended both events. One can readily see what good roads mean to these folks in the rural districts. Years ago, in the days of the horse and buggy, they couldn't have attempted such a pretentious evening's program.

Pa Newc rather imagines that the farmer's springs and wells are beginning to store up a plentiful supply.

Von Hindenburg And Hitler Meet

Confer At Berlin On Formation Of New German Cabinet

RESUME SESSION EARLY NEXT WEEK

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Despite efforts to maintain secrecy, 2,000 persons enthusiastically cheered Adolf Hitler shortly before noon today when he arrived at the presidential palace for his conference with President Paul von Hindenburg.

With the fate of the Reich for a long time to come in the balance, the eyes of the entire nation were centered on the meeting between the aged president and the fiery Nazi leader.

Hitler was closeted with the president for more than an hour.

When he finally emerged from the presidential palace, thousands of persons, waiting for him at the Kaiserhof Hotel, cheered him loudly, shouting:

"Hail Hitler!"

Shortly afterwards, an official communique was issued stating the conference between Hitler and von Hindenburg would be continued next week.

It was also indicated the conference had been successful and that Hitler had not repeated his "radical" demands for the chancellorship of the Reich.

Congress Lines Up Solidly On Debt Problem

Veritable Stonewall Of Opposition To Any Change In Debt Program

NO DISPOSITION TO WAIVE PAYMENTS

Sentiment Of Congress Is That Debtors Either Pay Or Default

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A veritable stonewall of opposition was rearing itself in congress today against any tinkering whatever with the existing debt agreements by which European countries are committed to paying $11,000,000,000 to the United States treasury over the next half century.

Each returning member, whether senator or representative, Republican or Democrat, adds another stone to it. Seldom has there been such an apparent unity among the legislators on any issue.

Against Concessions.

Nearly all of the dozen leaders of both parties who have been summoned to conference with President Hoover next Wednesday, after the scheduled Hoover-Roosevelt meeting, are dead against any concessions. They oppose not only the postponement of payments due on December 15, but any further moratorium, as well as re-creation of the debt funding commission.

What President Hoover can do, under these conditions, remains to be determined. Anything he may propose in the way of further leniency seems certain of rejection.

"I don't know what the president is going to propose," said Rep. Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Democratic leader of the house. "About all I

Democrats May Contest Election In Philadelphia, Is Reported

FURTHER PROBE IS UNDECIDED

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—While 10 embryonic election contests were maturing here, the house campaign funds investigating committee today moved its trappings to Wilmington, Del., to continue its probe into complaints of irregularities in last week's balloting.

Whether or not a further probe will be made of the Pennsylvania elections was undecided today. The committee made no answer to the demand of S. Davis Wilson, its counsel, that further hearings be held in Washington with Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and other business leaders, as witnesses.

Included among the Philadelphia congressmen facing a contest is Rep. James M. Beck of the second district.

Starting testimony that Republican ward workers had ordered the printing of 5,000 cards urging the election of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket and bearing the inscription, "Ku Klux Klan", was given the committee at the closing session. Other witnesses said the cards were scattered through a ward thickly populated with Jewish and Negro voters.

Rev. Robert W. Yourd Sues William H. Ice, Jr., For $8,069 For Auto Crash

Rev. Robert W. Yourd, of 608 Summer avenue, has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against William H. Ice, Jr., of 201 Boyles avenue, in which he asks for $8,069, as the result of an automobile accident, some months ago.

Rev. Yourd says that when he came to Delaware avenue he saw Ice about 250 feet from the intersection. Thinking he had plenty of time to cross, Rev. Yourd drove out on Delaware and was struck by the Ice car.

The Yourd car was hit near the center and thrown against a tree. The car was completely wrecked. Rev. Yourd sustained a fracture of the skull and other injuries, it is stated.

It is claimed that the accident was due to the high and reckless rate of speed at which Ice was driving his car.

(Special To The News)
CORONA, Cal., Nov. 19.—Two very important items in the papers, "Mr. Roosevelt to visit Mr. Hoover" and the other "Mr. Roosevelt takes out a $500,000 policy." I do hope these two items together have no (what do you call it?) significance.

Mr. Roosevelt made his policy payable in favor of his pet and well deserving project, the Infantile Paralysis Home at Warm Springs, Ga.

See where the Literary Digest missed the election by two and six-one hundredths of a point. That sheet is certainly going back. Why don't the Digest hold one now to see if we're going to get any dough back from "our friends" overseas?

Aged Woman Is Found Murdered

Brutal Murder Uncovered In Home Near Chicago, Grandson Missing

YOUTH BELIEVED TAKEN BY KILLERS

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—A gruesome murder mystery came to light here early today when the brutally murdered body of Mrs. Ellen Saxe, 60-year-old grandmother, was found in a cistern at the rear of her home in suburban Riverside.

The aged woman's grandson, Bert Arnold, 16, was missing from the care of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Arnold, with whom Mrs. Saxe lived. Fearing that the murdered woman's grandson might have been abducted by the killers, police started an intensive hunt for the Arnold automobile in which the youth had driven to a dance last night.

The old woman had apparently been shot or clubbed to death with a blunt instrument. One ear was severed.

Within the Arnold home furniture was disarranged and there were other signs of a terrific struggle.

Clashes Occur During Hearing

Eaton Retains Minutes Of Electric Company Without Subpoena

ATTORNEYS PROTEST AGAINST ACTION

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Proceedings in the Senate utility investigation marked time today, the committee adjourning public hearings until November 30, when subpoenas of the bank and brokerage accounts of public service commissioners are returnable.

The curtain came down on yesterday's hearing with a clash when utility lawyers sent out a storm of protest over the decision of Oliver K. Eaton, committee counsel, to retain the minutes of the Pennsylvania Electric Company brought in by W. A. Reiber, Johnstown, treasurer and controller of the company.

Displays of temper marked the conflict with Eaton confiscating the minutes over the protests. The utility attorneys insisted neither Reiber nor the minute books had been subpoenaed and that the books had not been entered in evidence.

"I'll enter them," Eaton retorted sharply and walked away. J. Julius Levy, associate counsel, did the "honors," totting the three books from the hearing room while David I. McCahill, Pittsburgh, counsel for the Pennsylvania Electric, shouted "outrageous" and another lawyer indignantly branded the committee a "parcel of hijackers."

The best the utility attorneys could get was a promise of a receipt. When that was forthcoming they refused to accept because the last paragraph of it said the books had been offered "in evidence," which they denied.

used, and thus more labor will be provided. Work is expected to start within the immediate future as the work of building the highway is now under progress.

In carload lots the job will mean approximately 2,000 cars of stone to be hauled out by the Pennsylvania railroad. This in turn means more work for yard and road crews working out of New Castle.

For some time the negotiations have been under way between Mr. Pearson and H. T. Frushour, formerly superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad, and the Bates and Rogers Company. Convinced that the Neshannock Falls stone met their requirements, the deal was consummated and the work of quarrying the stone will start immediately.

ply for the winter. Perhaps we are going to have a cold, hard winter, and Mother Nature is just getting the ground saturated before she freezes it up tight.

Rains during the past week have had their effect on the rivers and they are at the highest stage they have been in some time. This will be very beneficial to our city water supply, as the rains will carry away the dead leaves and vegetation which has fallen into the water and which causes an unpleasant taste generally noticed in the fall.

Two new detours have been established in this section of the state on roads likely to be used by the Lawrence county residents, according to the State Highway Detour Bulletin. One is on Route 8 between Wildwood and Cooperstown. Detouring is via Valencia over an improved road. The other is between Zellenople and the Beaver County line on the road to Ellwood City. This detour is 3.7 miles long, of which 2.3 miles is over an earth road. The detour between New Castle and Wampum is shown on this week's map, although it has been in existence for several weeks.

The record brought Amelia's voice as it was heard in her first address making her transatlantic flight. As a record could hardly be circulated with the book, it was detached and rests on a desk in Miss Sterling's office.

Circulation of books at the main building of the local library reached a fine peak one week ago today, with 1270 books being borrowed during the one day. Many thousands of books are borrowed from the centrally located building, Jefferson and North streets, every month, the records show.

girls of the Whittier Methodist church on Sunday school picnics, grew a heavy beard. He habitually wore a pair of tattered blue overalls and a worn hat.

Wrote Lawyer Carl didn't say anything to "Mr. Rogers" about it, he said.

"The paper said the president was trying awfully hard to find Col. Robins," Carl related. "I started to write President Hoover, but I saw the name of a Chicago lawyer in the story, so I wrote him and told him Col. Robins was here."

"His neevy came here yesterday, and sure enough it was him!" The youngster wrote Salmon Levinson, Chicago attorney, a leader in the search for the missing man.

No, Col. Robins never gave any hint of his past life to link him with his true identity, Carl said.

"Except he told us he was a coal miner from Kentucky," the boy said. Col. Robins, in the nineties, prospected for gold in the Alaskan Klondike.

Search Ended Asheville, N. C., Nov. 19.—A nationwide search conducted at the behest of President Hoover for Col. Raymond Robins, prominent prohibitionist ended today with the discovery of the missing man, alive and well, in the fastness of the western North Carolina mountains.

Col. Robins was living alone in a mountain hut near Whittier, a remote cross-road hamlet tucked away in the towering great Smoky ranges. He was known as "Mr. Rogers."

Sound in body, but a victim of amnesia, Col. Robins, in his strange mental phase, had turned gold prospector, reverting to a time more than 20 years ago when he grubbed for gold in the Alaskan Klondike strike.

Versions of how the missing man was found varied widely. Prohibition authorities, who claimed credit for finding Col. Robins, and John C. Drier, a nephew, who identified him, refused to give any detailed information.

Frank Fredmond, town barber of Whittier, told International News Service he first noticed his customer's resemblance to newspaper photographs when he trimmed Robin's beard and told two prohibition agents.

Other townspeople at Whittier said they began to suspect Robins' true identity several days ago.

Col. Robins received no mail thru the Whittier postoffice from the time he arrived here "from Kentucky" until his identification, Postmaster A. H. Gibbs, told International News Service today.

"No, Col. Robins received no mail, letters or newspapers," Gibbs said. "He never asked for mail."

Gibbs said the Colonel "read the Asheville papers" but he didn't believe he had seen any Florida or New York papers.

By JOSEPH K. SMITH International News Service Staff Correspondent

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 19.—Under guard in Norburn General hospital here, believed to be suffering from amnesia, Col. Raymond Robins noted dry crusader and friend of three presidents, today held locked behind his bearded countenance the secret of his disappearance which astounded and mystified a nation.

Brought here from the mountain hamlet of Whittier, in the great Smokies, where he was identified by Carl Fisher, 12 year old, sky, freckled mountain lad, Robins was hurried to a hospital room. A heavy guard was placed about it and Dr. Mark A. Griffin issued strict orders he was to see no one pending completion of an exhaustive examination.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Robins sped northward from Florida to join her husband and aid state and federal officials in an effort to pierce the mystery surrounding the noted dry leader's disappearance.

Federal prohibition agents who took charge of Col. Robins when Fisher's identification was confirmed by John C. Dreier, a nephew of Robins, announced the long sought man was an amnesia victim.

Dr. Griffin, however, was quoted as saying it is "absolutely impossible to give a correct diagnosis of the case" until after further observation.

Sen. Jones was survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Coffin of Yakima, Wash., and a son, Harry Jones, Seattle attorney.

The Copal Brothers entertained with mandolin, accordion and guitar numbers; Margaret Gillespie and Walter McCormick entertained with Hawaiian music, cowboy songs and yodeling.

The class quartet, composed of Vennor Bright, Lon Pink, Grant Nail and E. C. Gattalari, sang several numbers, and Frank Fischer gave a splendid talk.

Harry C. Ward was chairman of the program arrangements.

BESSEMER CLUB ANNIVERSARY

The Newman Club's observance of its first anniversary was a successful event of Thursday evening at Wolfe's hall. Members and guests to the number of approximately 100 gathered to help make the affair an outstanding one.

The evening's activities were started off at a lively pace when Ralph Seip, acting as master of ceremonies, took charge of the proceedings.

The club chorus brought the program to a close.

Following the program came the high spot of the evening, the grand march, with everyone participating. The formal part of the program was limited to the installation of officers, a review of the club's history by John Hulini and the president's address by John Brentin, and impromptu talks by A. A. Shoup, Miss Evelyn Percie and Rev. F. L. Burie.

Refreshments were served by a committee later in the evening, headed by Joseph Susany and Rudolph Spincic. The entire group took note of the fact that two of the most active and popular members, Conrad and Vincent Plevnik, were unable to be present due to the serious accident in the family early in the week.

can think of is that he might want to set up the debt funding commission again. I am against that.

"Let the debtor nations default if they do not want to pay their honest debts."

Quite Absurd. Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, who will be chairman of the powerful finance committee in the next congress, declared it was little short of absurd to contend that the debtors cannot meet their December obligations.

The French installment due on December 15, he pointed out, amounts only to some $19,000,000.

"And it might be pointed out," said Harrison, "that in 1931 France expended for military purposes $575,000,000. Expenditures for similar purposes by the United Kingdom were $460,000,000, and for Italy $262,000,000."

The belief is widely held here that little will come of the Hoover-Roosevelt conference on Tuesday. The president-elect has already indicated he considers the postponement of payments to be an issue for this administration, not his. Gov. Roosevelt also insisted that the conference with Mr. Hoover be wholly informal.

After that, it will be up to Mr. Hoover to write his recommendations into his annual message, and as for the debtors they apparently can come to treasury window on December 15—or default.

SLOWER GROWTH

THERE comes a time in the life of every country when its population becomes stationary, and a study of population statistics gathered by the census bureau during the last three decades indicates that the United States is approaching that point. An analysis made by life insurance company fixes the time at 1970 and the nation's population at that time at 170,000,000, which is nearly 50 per cent greater than the present population. This is predicated on the nation's birth rate, which has been steadily declining, and also on the assumption that the national government will never again let down the immigration bars.

History shows that once the population of a country ceases to grow it remains stationary for about half a century and then begins slowly to decline. This is something every land expects and usually finds desirable.

It is well that this matter of future population be kept in mind, for it will govern the country's economic and industrial expansion. There must be no building for a population and consumption which never will be realized, for that was one of the things which brought on the depression.

America owes her wealth and progress, and did owe her prosperity, to her rapid growth in population. Will she enjoy health, wealth, prosperity and progress when her population becomes stationary? No other country has to the same degree.

REVIVED TALK OF INAUGURAL FESTIVITIES

Shall President-designate Roosevelt be inaugurated with an old-fashioned Fourth of March parade in the District of Columbia? Shall it be followed by an inaugural ball and some fireworks? These are questions now being asked. Specifically they come from the Advertising Club of Washington.

The managing director of the club has written to Governor Roosevelt trying to interest him in a revival of the old customs. "Formerly," he says, the new President went into office "on a scale befitting the importance of the occasion. But there has been a tendency in recent years—the lean ones by the way—to cut out festivities." This enthusiastic gentleman feels that it would be a great opportunity to induce citizens to come to the Nation's Capital to meet and greet their Chief Executive. And, he says, it would make them prouder than ever of their country.

Most of our Presidents have been satisfied to go into office with Jeffersonian simplicity. Others have abided by the wishes of the people—particularly of the residents of Washington. Woodrow Wilson was one who set a severe limit on the character and extent of the affair. The inauguration is bound to be surrounded by a certain amount of ceremony. Even in its simplest form it is very impressive. And always there are Government troops from nearby.

But the question now is whether we shall have the old-time jamboree, with all or most of the States in the Union represented in a big parade. Some will think that it might be wasteful and out of place in these times. Others will feel that it would stimulate the sale of high hats, frock coats and canes and badges. If the means are not within reach we may be sure that the Washingtonians will miss the big parade and the ball.

The wishes of the new President will have much to do with deciding the question; but in the meantime it costs nothing to speculate on the possibilities of unimportant matters.

LAME DUCK LEGISLATION

Congress will not convene for its short session until December 5, but committees are already doing the preliminary spade work, which will indicate the direction of the legislative winds before congress gets seriously down to work.

A senate subcommittee is studying the St. Lawrence waterways treaty and house committees are opening hearings on the treasury-postoffice measure, the congressional elections in Delaware and Pennsylvania, taxation, postoffice leases, veterans' legislation and government competition with business.

Though the approaching session will be short it will be strenuous. Prohibition, war debts, the huge federal deficit and the unemployment crisis are just a few of the big problems that will come before congress between December 5 and March 4.

Cooperation between the two parties should expedite much of this legislation now that the national election is history and the urge to play politics is temporarily dead. But four months with the usual Christmas and other interruptions provides little time for the tremendous amount of work at hand.

The country can expect a special session to be called shortly after March 4 by the new president.

CANDY, FALSE TEETH AND CIGARS

Pennsylvania last year produced more than 176,000,000 pounds of candy. In the same period the State turned out 84,000,000 false teeth. The ratio might suggest that for every two pounds of candy consumed replacement is necessary for the resulting ruin of one natural tooth. But the conclusion does not follow; for tons of each product are shipped outside the State and the two commodities do not go to the same destination.

It has often been remarked that Prohibition increased the sale of confectionery. The craving for sugar has been satisfied in solid form instead of alcoholic conversion. But the figures are chiefly impressive for showing the consumption of what is generally regarded as a luxury in times of depression. Meanwhile, if a balance may be assumed between candy and tobacco, it is worthy of note that Pennsylvania manufactured about two cigars for every ton of candy, not to mention cigarettes and cheroots.

But the divorce court never witnesses a fight for the custody of the old folks.

Hard times are like a celebrity. They never leave while they are a topic of conversation.

Another astonishing thing is the amount of ignorance a hard head can accumulate in 40 years.

A movie magazine doesn't merely reprint the same pictures of the same stars. It uses a new color of ink every month.

An educated man is one who knows why it is wrong for a bum to steal a pie and right for a nation to steal a province.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

READER: Why do you write?

Writer: It's my job.

Reader: Do you like your job?

Writer: Yes, I wouldn't trade it for any on earth. I've peddled papers, swept floors, made apple boxes, washed windows, collected subscriptions, washed dishes, waited on table done a few other jobs—but you can take any other job, I'll take writing.

Reader: Is it fun? It is exciting?

Writer: It isn't fun. It can be hard, devilish, pestiferous, heartbreaking—a miserable way to make a living—but there's something about it that I like.

Reader: What, for instance?

Writer: Well, since you're so persistent, vanity and craftsmanship are in it. I like getting an idea and working it out on paper so it will be somewhere near one-tenth as good as I want it to be. And sometimes, at rare intervals, you get hold of a bit of the truth, and while truth may be as dangerous as radium it may be very curative, too.

Reader: Do you really think that anybody who writes is performing a useful function in the world?

Writer: As I suggested, I can't be sure. Sometimes I think so, sometimes I don't. Most of the time I think not. But if you make people laugh, if you make them at all comfortable, if you stimulate them or ever give them courage, that helps a little, doesn't it?

Reader: Do YOU ever do any of those things?

Writer: Sometimes I have tried,

but always I am afflicted with a sense of failure. There's strength in common things that eludes me always. There is courage in people that I cannot catch in words. There is meaning in life that is beyond my expression.

Reader: Ever get any letters?

Writer: Yes, and most of them make me ashamed. Some thing I have not thought important may stir

a letter from a reader. Once I wrote of how I felt as a boy when the wild geese went honking over in the darkness and I had many a letter about that. And if I write of any common thing, I am to be had for grief or pain, people write me.

Reader: Do you like human nature?

Writer: Not at all. I. Nobody could. Hardly anybody ever has except Charles Dickens. But I like human beings. I ought to, I'm one of them.

Reader: Do you think they are happy?

Writer: Not as happy as they ought to be, or could be.

Reader: How about you? You're not so perfect, are you? Do YOU practice what you preach?

Writer: Don't you think you've asked enough questions?

BEING TOO LIBERAL

You had a hard struggle when you were in college and you have resolved that your boy or your girl not have a similar experience, if you can help.

Are you for this reason, a little too liberal with spending money?

Being too liberal encourages expensive habits.

In your home with yourself you are penurious, and careful, in order that the children away may have a good time and be free from the worry or the embarrassment which a shortage of money might cause.

You think it is your duty to give them the money necessary to "hold up their end" with the others whose parents are far more able to provide liberally.

If all parents were sensible in this matter, college expenses would decrease greatly.

The young people would have some necessary lessons in thrift which they must learn sometime.

The longer they put off that time the harder it will be to accustom themselves to financial curtailment.

Your too-liberal plan is not a good one.

Perhaps it is a good thing that not so many parents can indulge their sons and daughters in luxurious living at college as formerly.

PERFECT GUIDANCE.—Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.—Prov. 3: 5, 6.

THE candidate who runs for office on a platform of reducing taxes and cutting down government expenses will make a big hit, even if he knows he will not do anything much along that line after he gets elected. Men get a different view of things after they are elected.

RICKARD'S FIRST FIGHT

Rickard's first prize fight was held in Goldfield in 1906, and at that time he started the world by offering a purse of $32,000. People were so skeptical about the sum that he finally placed all of the amount in the window of a Goldfield bank.

FAMILY ATTRACTED TO AMERICA BY TALES OF MAGIC STOVE

"The land of the magic stove!" That's how the United States first appealed to the parents of Mrs. E. Sequeira of San Francisco, according to an incident related by John Bruce in his interesting column, "Skylines" in the San Francisco Call-Bulletin.

Mrs. Sequeira's mother, it seems, just couldn't get her wood stove to burn properly in her old home across the sea and sometimes had to call in a neighbor to help her with "the darn thing" at meal time.

Meanwhile, her sister had come to America and her letters told of the wonderful stoves here. All one had to do was turn a tap and light it with a match. Mother couldn't get the magic stove off her mind and finally persuaded her husband to come to this country.

Rev. C. W. Johnstone Conducts Service

Unique Sermon Is Preached In Central Christian Church In Evangelistic Meeting

A service of uniqueness was held Friday evening in the Central Christian church, when the pastor, Rev. C. W. Johnstone, who is conducting evangelistic services preached a sermon on "A Corpseless Funeral." Everything was set for a funeral service, with the exception of a body.

The hymns were all suggestive of funeral services: Mrs. June Bernard and Lewis Johns had a duet "Pause for a Moment of Prayer," and Mrs. Bernard sang "He Bore It All For Me."

The sermon was one of dynamic force indicating what would be said at a funeral service if there were no bereaved relatives to be spoken to. Throughout his sermon every person in the audience sat with bated breath, waiting for the next word. Sunday morning Rev. Johnstone will speak on "Crusading with Christ" and in the evening on, "Rightly Dividing the Word of God."

PRESIDENT-ELECT ON FIRST LAP OF CAPITAL TRIP

Roosevelt Goes To His Home To Spend Week-End

President-Elect Will Motor To New York City Monday Afternoon

WILL APPEAR IN CAPITAL TUESDAY

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY N. Y., Nov. 19.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, president-elect, was to leave today on the first leg of a journey which will take him to the White House Tuesday afternoon after his conference with President Hoover on war debts, and then to Warm Springs, Ga., for a two weeks' rest.

The governor planned to spend a quiet week-end at his country home at Hyde Park. He will motor to New York City late Monday afternoon, and will leave about 10 o'clock the following morning for Washington.

Has Recovered.
Completely recovered from the cold and influenza which confined him to his bed at the executive mansion for nearly a week, the president-elect did not attempt to conceal the fact that he was anxious to be on his way to his "other home" in the south.

Governor Roosevelt conferred at the mansion until a late hour last night with Professor Raymond Moley of Columbia university, who will accompany him to the White House. It is understood they went over the entire international debt situation.

Opposes Extension.
While Mr. Roosevelt is willing to frankly discuss the debt problem with President Hoover he repeatedly has made it plain he does not intend to assume responsibility for any decisions made prior to March 4, when he will be inaugurated.

It is believed, however, that Governor Roosevelt will tell the president that he is opposed to an extension of the moratorium.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company Not Satisfied With Grossman Verdict

Application for a new trial was made by the defendant at county court today in the case of Henry G. Grossman against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. Grossman secured a verdict of $800 against the company for the loss of his automobile and injuries as the result of his car being struck at a grade crossing at New Castle Junction.

An application for a new trial was also made by the plaintiff in the case of Thomas C. and Emma Snow against Louis E. Bogle and Constable Carl Furmanowicz in which a verdict in favor of Bogle was returned for $121. The case grew out of the constable's levy for rent on goods of the plaintiff.

More Evidence Introduced In Paper "Padding"
(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 19.—The first week of the fraud trial of four officials of the Youngstown Telegram today was completed with the state still producing array of stories of circulation padding.

Highlighting yesterday's testimony was that of Ole Scott, former circulation manager, who said that in the fall of 1927 the circulation figures were "padded" by 10,000 papers never even printed. He said he called the attention of John Waters, one of the defendants, to this and was told to forget it because advertising rates had just been boosted.

Young People Hear Thrilling Sermon
The Church of the Nazarene on West Falls street, was crowded with young people Friday evening to hear Rev. Holland London, a young evangelist of power, speak to them on "The Importance of Right Decision."

Yale, Columbia And Fordham Are Favorites Today

Experts Also Pick Irish Over Navy, And Pitt To Beat Carnegie Tech

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Yale, Columbia and Fordham were the teams blessed with the public's approval as they battled today in the near-final of the East's 1932 football program.

The Elis were quoted as favorites at 7 to 5 odds to score a triumph over Harvard in New Haven at their fifty-first meeting.

Fordham was a slight choice over the invading Oregon staters. They meet at the Polo grounds here.

Columbia Rated High
Columbia was rated as high as two to one over Syracuse in their battle at Baker Field. Manhattan College, New York, was hardly given a chance to whip Holy Cross in their Yankee Stadium game.

Experts, who weekly risk their reputations by picking Saturday's winners, rushed to declare Notre Dame a big favorite over Navy at Cleveland.

They also liked Temple over Villanova, Pittsburgh over Carnegie Tech and B'kennell over Georgetown.

Michigan Favored
In the Mid-West sector Michigan was generally favored to clinch the Big Ten Conference title by turning back Minnesota in their scrap at Minneapolis. Michigan State was elected over Detroit, Purdue over Indiana, Wisconsin over Chicago, Nebraska over Oklahoma, North-western over Iowa.

In the South's big game of the day at Columbus, Ga., Auburn was decidedly liked.

The experts were in a huddle concerning the California-Stanford game at Berkeley and couldn't make up their minds.

St. Vitus Team Looks Impressive

St. Vitus basketball team looks impressive this year and may cause a lot of trouble for other floor quintets in this city. There are 15 boys trying out for the team.

Waynesburg Team At New River To Wind Up Season

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, W. Va., Nov. 19.—An undefeated and untied football team from Waynesburg College in Western Pennsylvania arrived here today to close its most glamorous season since 1895 against New River State Teacher's college.

But the Yellow Jackets, champions of the tri-state conference and boasting of a victory over Penn State, must "shoot the works" to close the season with an unblemished record. Besides possessing a heavy squad, New River held Holy Cross to a 13 to 6 victory and fell one point below Davis and Elkins.

Primo Carnera Floors Giant

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Primo Carnera, the Italian man-mountain, today was nominated for whatever title there may be for champion of the world's giants who make their living in the realm of fistiana. The nomination was tendered as a result of the boxing show here last night in which 517 1/2 pounds of human flesh in the forms of Mr. Carnera and Portugal's Jose Santa made the boards of the squared ring fairly groan for six healthy rounds. That is, almost six rounds. There was only 1 minute and 10 seconds of the sixth round run off. At the end of that time, Jose gave up the ship and let the referee count him out. He gave all he had until there wasn't any more to give. Then he quit.

Lawless bands infesting the rural districts of France and Belgium during the Hundred Years' war were called ecorcheurs.

High School Rivals On Titan Outfit

Here are two high school rivals who have been competing for half-back berths on the Westminster college football team all season. They are Henry "Swede" Hunneke, Baldwin, L. I., and Walter Young, Freeport.

In high school days, Hunneke was a star on the Baldwin, N. Y., high school team, a great rival of Freeport, N. Y., high school where Young was a star halfback. During the 1930 season, when John Lawther was coach of the Freeport high team, the Freeporters won eight games without being scored upon. In the final game, against Baldwin high, Hunneke took a pass and raced for a touchdown. Freeport defeated Baldwin, but Hunneke spoiled the defensive record of the rival school. Hunneke plays halfback on the defense and end on the offense this year, with Scarborough playing halfback on the offense and end on the defense. Young has broken into a number of games at halfback. Both men will be members of the Titan cage squad this winter.

BASEBALL TRADE WINDS CARRY MANY RUMORS

December is not two full weeks distant and annually at this time rumors of baseball deals float along the baseball Rialto as the two big leagues will hold conclaves next month. Here are a few of the rumors:
Fred Lindstrom of the Giants may wind up with the Pirates, Cubs or Braves; Yankees and Athletics are angling for Heinie Manush, Washington outfielder; Washington would swap Fred Marberry to the White Sox for another hurler and catcher. Joe Cronin plans to use Rice and Harris and infielder Kerr as trading material; the Cubs need a southpaw and could use Lefty Clark of the Dodgers or Jumbo Elliott of the Phils. Brooklyn may sign Rosey Ryan and the Cubs want to secure Frisch from the Cards and the Cubs want Babe Herman of the Reds. Jim Bottomley can find a berth with the Cards and Brooklyn would trade Wright, Wilson, Finn, Slade, Clancy and Pielnich. The Giants would take a chance on Vance and the Phils would use Finn or Slade at second and Wilson would go to Cincinnati if the Dodgers could swing a deal for Si Johnson, Red Hurler. The Pirates don't want to pay Heinie Meine what he thinks he is worth and he would be welcome almost anywhere.

City Leaguers Playing Today

Williams and Mooney's will tangle at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Fall track field in a scheduled city league football game. The game brings together two of the fastest teams on the south side and will provide a lot of rivalry.

The Williams have won four straight games and will be out to make it five today. The Williams have defeated Ellwood City, DeHarts, Seventh Ward Stars and Croton. The Williams lineup will feature Nocera, Myler and Parker at ends, G. Mike, Gibson and Jimmy Mike at tackles, Harris, Jones and Abraham at guards, Babs at center, Rowe at quarterback, McHale, P. Adams, Brown and Neyman at halfbacks and P. Adams at fullback.

MICHIGAN PICKED OVER MINNESOTA

(International News Service)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 19.—Michigan goes down the home stretch today in its drive for the Big Ten conference championship. The undefeated and untied Wolverine eleven encounters a formidable barrier in the season's finale, the never-say-die Gophers of Minnesota. Impresario Harry Kipke presents his usual dazzling production, entitled Harry Newman and company, primed to go through the afternoon's performance without a slip. Pronounced in perfect physical condition were all 26 members of the Wolverine troupe.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Hawaii has proven itself a lucrative field for boxers from the mainland United States. There is plenty of employment to be found for A-1 pugilists. Especially is this true while the depression in boxing is prevalent throughout the United States. This is the opinion of George Blake, manager of Fidel La Barba, former world's flyweight champion and contender for the featherweight title. La Barba has fought throughout Hawaii with considerable success, both pugilistically and financially. La Barba likes Hawaii but like other visiting fighters he feels, according to the report from Honolulu that the climate of Hawaii with its enervating effect does not help a fighter. He is quoted as having said: "It makes a man lazy. And when a fighter gets lazy he is through."

Kenneth Myers, a member of the Olympic world champion double sculls crew, is through with Olympic competition. He told this to a group of Y. M. C. A. youths at Philadelphia recently. "I never hope to compete again. I am 37 now, and by the time the next Olympics roll around I will be 40. Instead of being in a boat I hope to be on the banks as a spectator in Berlin."

Teddy Yarosz turned in his fifty seventh win of 58 fights when he defeated Jack King of Chicago in 10 rounds last night at Pittsburgh. Yarosz floored King in the second and King put Yarosz down in the seventh. Neither, however, took a count.

Flashing a strong aerial offensive in the closing minutes of play after three listless periods, St. Vincent's sturdy Bearcats earned their fifth victory when they overwhelmed Morris Harvey of West Virginia 25 to 0 at Latrobe.

Gwilt's 3 year old Bob, at odds of 100 to 7, captured the Derby cup at one mile and six furlongs defeating R. F. Watson's Dick Turpin by a length. S. Vlasto's four year old filly, Rackety Lassie was third. The race was at Derby, England.

Johnny Gilbert increased his total winners for the year to 173 yesterday when he scored with three of his mounts at Bowie. Hank Mills who is under suspension has ridden 182. Gilbert won with Filter, in the third, Arrowswift in the sixth and Syriac in the last race.

Yale And Harvard Battling Today In New Haven, Conn.

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Nov. 19.—The blue banner of Yale and the crimson standard of Harvard float today over a city gone mad with the frenzy of football as 70,000 worshippers at the sacred altars of tradition begin their trek to the bowl.

The greatest crowd of the eastern football season will watch the embattled eleven who once ruled the eastern hold with tyrannical grip.

Yale, with only a victory over Dartmouth to leaven its disappointing season in championship fray, Harvard with triumphs over Dartmouth and Holy Cross to assuage its sorrow over defeats by Brown and Army may lack the championship touch and tone.

Turtle Creek Hopes To Stop New Castle

"Don't take this Turtle Creek team too lightly," that was message from Assistant Coach George "Gig" Thomas, the confronted Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh today at New Castle High School.

And that statement by Thomas means just exactly what it implies, that Turtle Creek High will bring a real team to New Castle. Coach Foy Miller and his charges have been priming for this "Red Hurricane" engagement for quite a few weeks now and they figure to be the team that upsets the well laden apple-cart for New Castle.

Turtle Creek Fast
Of course Turtle Creek is only offering to do something that Charleoi, Washington, New Kensington, Ellwood City, Altoona and Youngstown South found too hard to accomplish, but what of that. This is a year for upsets.

New Castle to win this game must be in the best of shape. It's a tough job keeping a team on edge for over a week. New Castle did not schedule a game for today, and that means a layoff of over a week

Prices For Game On Thanksgiving Will Remain Same

There will not be any advance in prices for the New Castle-Turtle Creek football game on Thanksgiving Day at Taggart field, said Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager at senior high, today.

The seats will sell the same for the big holiday attraction as for the other games on the schedule. The kiddies will see the game for 10 cents and sit in the bleachers at the northern end of the field. The western bleachers are 50 cents, and the southern bleachers 25 cents. The center section of the concrete stands will sell for 75 cents per seat and are reserved, while the remainder of the concrete stand not including the student section will be 50 cents.

The prices for the students of senior high, George Washington and Ben Franklin will be the same as heretofore. Tickets are on sale at the Sporting Goods store. There are many choice seats left.

STress Roll Call At Plaingrove Hi

Roll Call Chairman Brenne-man Makes Appeal At Meeting Last Night

Appeal to the citizens of the Plaingrove district to support the Red Cross in its annual roll call was made last evening at a meeting in the Plaingrove high school by F. S. Brennenman, roll call chairman. Mr. Brennenman was accompanied by Harry Alexander, chairman of the board, and Executive Secretary Orville Potter.

The roll call will come to a close on next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, and from present indications will be more ably supported than in any of the previous years, except during the war.

The great amount of good which has been accomplished in Lawrence county during the past year through the National Red Cross has proven that this great humanitarian institution is always ready and willing to help any stricken community.

The Red Cross rooms on South Mercer street have been arranged for the reception of the public during the roll call period and everyone interested in Red Cross work is invited to come to the chapter rooms to see what is being accomplished in the making of garments from the 48,000 yards of cotton cloth furnished by the government through the National Red Cross.

At the present time the national organization is expending $1,500 each day in distributing the cloth and flour purchased by the government. All freight and manufacturing charges are borne by the Red Cross. In addition, they are carrying on their regular activities.

STress Roll Call At Plaingrove Hi

Roll Call Chairman Brenne-man Makes Appeal At Meeting Last Night

Appeal to the citizens of the Plaingrove district to support the Red Cross in its annual roll call was made last evening at a meeting in the Plaingrove high school by F. S. Brennenman, roll call chairman. Mr. Brennenman was accompanied by Harry Alexander, chairman of the board, and Executive Secretary Orville Potter.

The roll call will come to a close on next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, and from present indications will be more ably supported than in any of the previous years, except during the war.

The great amount of good which has been accomplished in Lawrence county during the past year through the National Red Cross has proven that this great humanitarian institution is always ready and willing to help any stricken community.

The Red Cross rooms on South Mercer street have been arranged for the reception of the public during the roll call period and everyone interested in Red Cross work is invited to come to the chapter rooms to see what is being accomplished in the making of garments from the 48,000 yards of cotton cloth furnished by the government through the National Red Cross.

At the present time the national organization is expending $1,500 each day in distributing the cloth and flour purchased by the government. All freight and manufacturing charges are borne by the Red Cross. In addition, they are carrying on their regular activities.
